

Leading Provider of Challenging Aeromedical Evacuation (AME) Services, AMI Expeditionary Healthcare, Further Strengthens Their Portfolio of Global Aviation Options Acquiring Air CM Global Ltd (Air Charter and Management Global)

Reston, VA November 17, 2021 -- AMI Expeditionary Healthcare (AMI), already known as the go to Aeromedical Evacuation (AME) team operating in challenging locations around the world, acquired Air CM Global Ltd, a Malta-based global provider of aircraft management, charter services and aeromedical evacuation solidifying their ability to respond to troubled areas even faster.

AMI's Dr. Andrew Walker, Founder, Chairman and CEO shares, "This is the final piece of the puzzle. As a result of this acquisition, AMI will be able to better serve our clients, grow our customer base, and diversify into general aviation by also providing AOC management and executive charter throughout Europe and Africa, and eventually throughout the world."

Mr. Robert Foster, CEO of Air CM added, "I am delighted to hand Air CM over to Andrew and AMI. We are now prepared for the next stage of Air CM Global's growth."

With its headquarters in Malta, Air CM Global (Air Charter and Management Global) was created at the cusp of progressive changes in Government legislation in 2015. From business jets to aircraft management to luxury travel and specialist missions including air ambulance and cargo, Air CM helps clients buy, sell and charter aircraft. In addition, Air CM Global holds approvals with multiple authorities, allowing sole private operations requiring a Part NCC or 2-Reg, to full charter and management requiring an AOC.

AMI Expeditionary Healthcare's Aeromedical Evacuation services will become even more robust and customizable due to this acquisition of Air CM Global and their array of aircraft management and operations offerings.
